

CSI DMC promotes Brittany Adams

CSI DMC is proud to announce that Brittany Adams has been promoted to Associate Director of Sales in our South Florida office. Starting as an Account Executive at CSI five years ago, Brittany has worked her way through the ranks becoming a Senior Account Executive, before this most recent promotion, fine-tuning her advanced skillset along the way. With over nine years of event and destination management experience, Brittany will oversee all account management within our South Florida sales department, focusing on our partners and client relationships, and ensuring all needs are not only met but exceeded!

Brittany is incredibly thankful for her time thus far at CSI as she has, “learned a lot about the industry, how to plan and execute successful events and what it takes to strengthen relationships.” Brittany knows the ins and outs of selling and operating complex events having worked on several large-scale full-service programs that included décor, entertainment, catering, and experiential activities. With her key attention to detail, clients can count on Brittany to ensure all the “I’s” are dotted and “T’s” are crossed, and that their events are nothing short of exceptional. It is clear her personal motto, “work hard, play hard” is paying off, so please join us in congratulating Brittany on her meritorious promotion.
